About Us

International Association of Scientists and Researchers (IASR) is a non-profit organization focused on delivering updated literature and research work to the global scientific and research society. It has emerged as a pioneering organization dedicated to disseminating recent research and studies to avid learners and academics, particularly within the field of forensic science. Through initiatives such as the IASR International Conferences, which serve as platforms for researchers, academicians, and professionals to exchange ideas and insights, the organization aims to foster continuous learning and facilitate the dissemination of cutting-edge research in various domains of forensics.

Sherlock Institute of Forensic Science India (SIFS India) is registered with Govt. of India and is an ISO Certified Educational Institute that has acquired a special place of honor globally. It was set up in 2006 with the mission to make forensic education available to all and with a vision to make India a crime-free place to live by creating a skilled workforce of forensic experts to assist law enforcement agencies and the judiciary in bringing justice to the table within time. It has been a frontrunner in the field of forensic science. It has been conducting various events to maximize the reach of Knowledge of forensic science across the globe. It organizes various Conferences, Seminars and Workshops with the goal of sharing recent advancements and research happening around the globe with students and professionals to boost their knowledge and morale.

Clue4 Evidence Forensic Investigations Private Limited (Clue4 Evidence Forensic Lab) is a dedicated corporate entity and has been recognized as the competent Forensic Laboratory in the field of testing and investigations. Incorporated in the year 2009, Clue4 Evidence Forensic Lab is now the most preferred Forensic partner for various high profile cases which are being investigated by Police and special investigation agencies across the Country.

About Conference

Forensic Science has grown significantly over the past few decades; the essential demand for progress has been met with bright young minds putting their extensive efforts into advancements in the field. IASR and SIFS India with other fellow organizations have been substantial support pillars in establishing the mark of forensics in India and across the globe. The motive of constant learning and sharing of recent studies and advancements has been met constantly with their untiring efforts.

So we are immensely pleased to announce that IASR 15th IASR International Conference on Forensic Science 2024 in collaboration with Sherlock Institute of Forensic Science, SIFS India and Clue4 Evidence Forensic Lab, hosting plethora of knowledge and learning, a three day International Conference on Forensic Science. The International Conference is structured to lead the way through endeavors, focused on taking Forensics to greater heights. We believe that when vigilance, innovation, and curiosity meet together, prosperity takes hold of it and leads you to excellence. Keeping up with the zeal, the objective of the upcoming IASR International Conference is to bring together prodigious forensic professionals, researchers, and enthusiastic learners to share their ideas and take a step higher in forensic science.

We heartily invite you to join hands with us with monetary contribution as an esteemed Sponsor at the upcoming conference and share the benefits of the success and achievement of this initiative. As a leader in the community, your involvement with us is an opportunity for your organization to receive exposure and join other individuals, organizations, and coalitions in our community to educate people about Forensic Science, related domains, and their practical approach.
